

The American Law Institute (ALI) is the leading independent organization in the United States producing scholarly work to clarify, modernize, and improve the law. The ALI Restatement of Trusts organizes and explains the principles of the field; identifies underlying social goals, such as implementing a settlor's purposes, bounding those purposes with society's appropriate limitations, and applying rules efficiently and fairly; and offers guidance to trustees, lawyers, and judges by explaining and illustrating the governing rules and discussing relevant cases, statutes, and secondary sources. Professor Edward C. Halbach, Jr. of the University of California, Berkeley School of Law, who served as Reporter for this Restatement, was assisted by Professor Thomas P. Gallanis of the University of Iowa College of Law and Professor Randall W. Roth of the University of Hawaii, William S. Richardson School of Law.
